Dangerous substances: Commander of Bomb and Arson Unit of CPD to visit Torske Klub

The speaker for October will be Edward J. O'Donnell, Commander of the Bomb and Arson Section of the Chicago Police Department. He will talk about fires, arsons, explosions, bombing, dangerous fire works and related topics. Our Torskemaster will be Roger (Rusty) Elmer Jr., another of Chicago's finest, who works also in Bomb and Arson. Reserve early for this interesting day and toast Leif Erikson Day.

Torske Klub Dues

It is time to collect Torske Klub yearly dues again. By motion of the Board of Directors, we have increased the dues to $40 this year, to cover the costs of increased mailing this fine newsletter and also the Linie Aquavit toast for your birthday. The Torske Klub is still a bargain; consider that such a klub would cost you over 200 kroners in Norway!

A slip of paper is enclosed with your recorded information.

Please change anything that is incorrect or add anything that is omitted. Send the slip back with a check for $40 in the enclosed envelope or bring it to the meeting. If you have paid already, the slip will be marked "PAID" and you have nothing to do unless a correction to information is needed. Membership cards will be issued in January to those in good standing.

Honorary Members

Earlier this year, the Board of Directors elected to provide an honorary membership to those members who have made a significant contribution to the Norwegian Community, both in this colony and across the pond. Vasa Park, September 2007

Vasa Park was awash in blue Torske Klub shirts on a gorgeous September 9th day where a number of our members gathered with family and friends to celebrate the Scandinavian culture in Chicago. The event has grown quite large, but the blue shirts were evident and the subject of discussions like "That Torske Klub is quite a group" and "I think they are one of the fastest growing Scandnavian group in Chicagoland".

The Torske Klub set up an information booth manned by Events Chairman Ken Nordan, Secretary Ken Larson and Torske Klub Boss Rob Alsaker during the day. Our booth sported the banner and enough info to convince visitors that we are not a fishing club. Ken Nordan prepared a placard, and Kathy Larson scrapbooked a Torske Klub book of letters and pictures. Many of our members stopped by to say hello and many other visitors were invited to join. During the day, we visited other booths manned by other friends and relatives. Next door was the Fjordland SofN lodge, where Barney Jacobsen (our late master chef) cooked torsk often. We learned that they inherited Barney's torsk cooking pots, but they learned that we had one of Barney's "students" cooking for us at the Elk's Club in Des Plaines. Which has the better legacy?

The day's entertainment included a visit from Sven and Ole (Phil Dybdahl and Dave Nelson), our entertainment last year for ladies day. They were invited back. Hide the aquavit.

October 9 – Leif Erikson Day- Save the Viking Ship!

Ahhh, got your attention, didn't we?

The date of October 9th was set aside by Congress as Leif Erikson Day to denote his travel to the North American continent, the first European to do so. It seems appropriate to focus our attention to one of the historic events that illustrated this discovery, which was not well accepted 100 years ago. The Viking ship, the "Raven" was sailed from Norway, up the St. Lawrence river to Lake Michigan and to the 1893 Columbian Exposition in Chicago. That Norwegian historical artifact is now in disrepair and sitting in Good Templar Park in Geneva. American Express has sponsored an effort to fund repairing local artifacts, by voting for the ones to focus attention. Go to http://www.partnersinpreservation.com between September 6 and October 10, and vote for the Viking Ship as your favorite Chicago area cultural landmark. You can vote for it once per day, so vote early and often. As of this writing, it is in 3rd place in a field of 25 with 10% of the vote. See the Torske Klub Website for pictures and background.
